His view is probably obscured, and he knows that if he does not get rid of the ball quickly he has an excellent chance of being bustled through by any of the five forwards In this latter respect his lot is much hap-

changes and developments in the manner in which it is played during the last twenty years. And though the result of the new style of play has been to trust almost entirely to the combined action as opposed to individual effort, and consequently a dividing up of labour, it has had the effect of making the duties of a full back considerably heavier. The famous brothers, P. M. and A. M. Walters, are responsible for this to a great extent. For, being gluttons for work, they failed to see why a full back should not follow-up the game when his side were acting on the offensive, instead of hanging back in his own goal. Their appetites for hard work were appeased in this way. Still this was not all. They saw that though a full back is prima facie a defensive player, yet by this change he became an important weakening the defence. There are, therefore, mainly two different styles. One in which they both lie well back in the mouth of goal, the other of worthless imitations and substitutes. offensive player, without in the least

A full back needs many qualifications before he can he really first class. He must be a good kick. He must be able to take the ball cleanly on the volley or half volley with either foot and in any position, And he must possess judgment in his kicking. It is not always necessary to kick his hard-est. A full back should try as much as possible to pass to his forwards, or in some cases to his halves; not punt the ball right over to the opposing back. Many of those tremendous ballooning kicks, which call forth such applause from the crowd, are useless and only a waste of time. Of course there are occasions in front of goal when a full back should kick anywhere, rather than wait, even if it is at the expense of giving

Then he must be a sound tackler. Tackling may be defined as the art of choosing the right fraction of a second for making your effort. If an opposing forward meets a back in mid-field it is often a good plan for the latter to, as it is called, 'nurse' more responsibility. A mistake in mid-field him, by allowing him to gain ground by the can be and often is, rectified without much back retreating, always, however, keeping harm being done, but a slip in goal is not only the most apparent to the enlockers,—in him cases out of ten it is absolutely in front of him. A golden rule as regards heading is that once a back has made up his mind to head he should never take his eye off the ball, though he knows that two or three forwards are bearing down upon him at full speed, To head successfully he must pick the spot where he can reach it before anybody else, and then jump up, and with muscles set meet the ball with the top of the forehead, keeping his eye glaed on the ball. Many a mistake is made by taking the eye off the ball at the all important moment of impact; This I know to be the opinion of L. V. The Earl of Liverpool in 1812 formed a Tory Ministry, which lasted for fifteen years. He united the Tory party at a critical period in its history, and though his policy generally was coorcive and reactionary, he was a sound and enlightened Financial Administrator. George Canning was Prime Minister from February to August 1827, when his health gave way under the cares of office. He was one of the strongest Foreign Ministers England ever had, holding that post both in the Portland and Liverpool Administrations.

Viscount Goderich, afterwards created Earl Ripon, became head of a Tory Administration in 1827, which only lasted seven months, and was entirely undistinguished during its brief life.

Editorial Comment.

When we suggested the other HIS GRACE day that advantage should be taken of the visit to Australia of H.R.H. the Duke of York and Princess May to invite them to visit Hongkong, we were not aware that the same suggestion had been submitted to His Excellency Six Henry Blake by the Unofficial Members of the Legislative Council through the Senior Unofficial Mem-Hymn, No. 31 (Dix) Rocher; Hymn, bor, the Hon. C. P. Chater, C.M.G. Wo are pleased to learn that Mr Chater and his colleagues have taken this step. Hongkong may be a small part of the British Empire, but it is important in its way, and contri-ST. PETER'S CHURCH, WEST POINT - 4ru | butes in no small degree to keep alive British traditions and British prestige in this corner of the globe. Of this we are certain: There is no portion of the British Empire where Their Royal Highnesses could get a heartier or more loyal welcome. The public will be pleased to learn that His Excellency the Governor has telegraphed to England the desire of the community to meet and welcome the Heir Presumptive, either on his way to or from Australia. It is, therefore, not outside the bounds of probability that Their Royal Highnesses may visit Hongkong-the first territory, as we have already said, to be annexed by the British Crown after the accession of Her Majesty the Queen. As yet, however, no reply to the invitation has come to hand.

When a midshipman, in 1881, the Duko of York and his late brother, Prince Ed ward, visited Hongkong, and were entertained at a public ball in the City Hall. We learn from Australian telegrams that

> We were informed a few days ago by our Berlin correspondent that Count von or GERMAN Buclow's explanation the Kaiser's attitude ofwards Kruger had dissipated all remaining sympathy for the Boers in Germany. In France, on the other hand, the fervour for the Boor cause is in no way abated. This phenomenon is all the stranger since nearly every French officer who has returned from the Transvaal has declared. himself disillusioned. French enthusiasm for the Boer cause, we must assume, is kept alive by the illogical doctrine of hatred towards Great Britain preached by the French journals, in season and out of season, rather than by any real love or knowledge of the Boers in their native state. An example of this is furnished by Le Courrier d'Haiphany, one of the most attitude towards Kruger seems to launch and junk were much damaged. have touched our French contemporary on a sore spot. Continuing of the closing offertory. by informing Parliament that "popular manifestations were useless and purely platonic," he again puts his foot in it. Germany, unfortunately, is not the only nation whose Government takes no account of popular sentiment. Vox populi, roc Dei has been quoted before now; it comes truer every day. We cannot help thinking, in regard to the recont reverses, that there is nothing to be surprised at in General Clements' disaster. CHARGE AGAINST Mr H. F. CARMICHAEL.

At the Magistracy this morning, before trate, Mr H. F. Carmichael, of Mossra dated 23rd April 1896, I do not know Mr Harper did not give him a certificate of fringing the Companies' Ordinances. The know, whose writing 'John Harper, is. I Mr Carmichael, whom he also saw a few charge was as follows:—(1) That the said have got the Register of Transfers of shares days afterwards, told him (witness) that he Hugh Fletcher Carmichael, then being a director of Carmichael and Company, Limited, a public company carrying on business in this Colony, did, with intent to defraud, make a false entry in the books of Carmichael and Company, Limited, to the effect that he, the said Hugh Fletcher Carmichael, weathe owner of the ten shares in Carmichael and Company, Limited, numbered 1020/1029; (2) That he, the said Hugh Fletcher Carmichael, then being a director in Carmichael and Company, Limited, a public company carrying on business in this Colony, did, with intent to defraud, concur in the making of a false entry in the books of Carmichael and Company, Limited, to the effect that he, the said Hugh Fletcher Carmichael, was the owner of the 16 shares in Carmichael and Company, Limited, numhered 1020/1029, contrary to section 68 of Ordinance No. 7 of I 65. Mr H. E. Pollock, instructed by Mr Mounsey, appeared for the prosecution, and Mr M. W. Shale, instructed by Mr Grist, for the defence.

Mr Pollock, in opening the case, his Worship would see from the charges, nied by our rioriey, that the actendant was This was written by direction of dated 27th October, 1899. He got the charged with two charges under section 68 the flower charged with two charges under section 68 of Ordinance 7 of 1865. The facts of the case were briefly that there was formerly a man named John Harper who sold ten shares of Carmichael and Company, Limited, a public company registered in this Colony. That man was employed as an engineer on board the steamship Catterthun, and, on or about the 8th August, 1895, the Catterthun went down of the const of Australia, and most of the Europeans on board were drowned, and amongst them this man John Harper, Sulsequent to the death of John Harper, the defendant Carmichael, having no interest at all in these shares, caused himself to be entered in the Register of Shareholders of Carmichael and Coy., Limited, as being the owner of these ten shares belonging to John Harper: "It would be shown in evidence that Mr Carmichael was at that time a director of Carmichael and Coy., Limited, and as such director he ordered Mr W. Hutton Potts, who was then Secretary to the Company, to make an entry in the books of Carmichael and Coy., Limited, to the effect, that he (Mr H. F. Carmichael) was owner of the shares montioned. Subsequent to the death of Mr John Harper, his brother Mr Archibald Harper, arrived in the Colony, as representing his brother's estate, he sold these shares to Mr Archibald Ritchie at the price of $10 a share. His Worship-Was Mr Archibald Harper alministrator of the estate? Mr Pollock-I cannot tell whether he was the actual administrator, but he purported to have authority. At all events, he said he would sell to Mr Ritchie ten shares belonging to John Harper, the deceased man, and Mr Ritchio agreed to buy these ten shares at the price sum of $100 for these ten shares to Mr pany included the entering of transfers of Archibald Harper, and got a receipt for the money. After that, Mr Ritchio applied to kept the share registers of the Companies. have himself registered in the books of When a purchaser of shares sent in a com-Carmichael and Coy, as the owner of these pleted transfer it was his duty, as secretary ten shares, and then he found out on ap-plying that these ton chares were registered there orders, and his practice would not in the name of the defendant. Mr Ritchie purchased these ten shares in December, 1898, and he was constantly pressing after that date that these shares should be that date that these shares should be registered in his name, and finally, registered in his name, and finally, in October, 1899, the certificate produced was issued by Carmichael and Company, Limited, that these shares were in his name. His Worship might think it a material cire Mr Carmichael's signature as a comstance in this case that between December, 1898, and October, 1899, at the time when Ritchie was pressing that these shares should be put in his name, Mr Carmic ael, the defendant, displayed some anxiety to buy these shares from Ritchie at the price. of $11 a share, which, of course, would have given Ritchio a profit of $1 per share on the transaction. However, Mr Ritchie was unwilling to do that, and finally this certificate mentioned was issued on 27th

October, 1899. His Worship-Was registration of probate taken out on this deceased man's

Mr Pollock.-I am unable to tell your Worship that. I can't say whether he was the proper administrator or not. All we can say is that the brother of the deceased man assumed the right to dispose of the shares. The position of the defendant appeared to be that he without any, right a title caused ten shares belonging to the deceased man, John Harper, to be transferred into his name. That was done at the time when the defendant was a director of the Company, and he gave the order to Mr Potts, the Secretary, to make the transfer. Continuin , witness said he had suffpooned ; Mr Wilson, of Carmichael and Company, Limited, to produce the books of the Com-His Worship. -These books will have to be produced in the witness box. MrSlade-We object to Mr Hurley scoin, anything more than the outside of these We must stronuously object.

Mr Pollock-We submit that the defendant has; without right, title, or authority caused these shares to be put into his own name, he being at that time a director of the Company, and that that was done with intent to defraud. I submit, your Worship, that it is a fair inference that an intent to defraud does'exist where a man has shares transferred to his name in that way. I submit it is an extremely suspicious thing that the defendant should have been auxious to buy these shares from Mr. Ritchie. It shows that the defendant must have realized that he had done something able to show your Worship, when I come ! to deal with the law of the case, which I shall do when I get all the facts before us, that there was an intent to defraud. I will now call Mr Wilson. William Webb Wilson, assistant in Carmichael and Company, Limited, since 1899. He was getting $200 a month; a biggor salary than he got to begin with. Mr Slade said his friend's object in asking. these questions would be easily seen by his Worship. It was simply with the object of making things as unpleasant for Mr Carmichael as possible.

His Worship said he could not see any yeason for asking such questions. Continuing the witness said he had been receiving this salary for the past five months. He was a director in the Company and had been so since the time of Mr. W. G. Humphreys, since April this year, He had with him the case containing the transfer deeds relating to Carmichael and Company, Limited. Ho produced the transfor derd, undated, from John Harper to H. Insurances, is the question of the hour. The best gift for your wife is a policy of life assurance. Clothes will wear out. A piano will get out of tune Jewelry will become old fashioned. Bric-n-Brac will break. Most things deteriorate with age, BUT NOT A POLICY OF LIFE ASSURANCE, the older IT gets the more valuable it becomes.

'What to - -Give'
